

AOC's "Zifas" LCD Monitor shows cutting-edge style

SYDNEY, 12 MAY 2008: The stand-out industrial design at this year's CeBIT may well be a new Widescreen LCD Monitor from AOC.

Zifas is a 22-inch, slim screen with all-aluminium chassis and stand, wraparound piano-black bezel and backlit soft-touch controls. The Flexi stand allows the monitor to tilt, swivel, pivot and fold flat. It's even an integrated stretchable wall mount arm.

Apart from conventional analogue PC support, it also has HDMI input and hidden speakers to extend its versatility to the latest home theatre applications.

All this with design flair that would suit a modern art gallery, architectural home or professional studio.

Zifas is one of the next generation of Widescreen LCD Monitors and large LCD Televisions that AOC will debut at CeBIT, all featuring the latest LCD display technologies, along with innovative styling elements such as piano black finish, glossy metal controls and diamond-cut texture.

Visit stand number Z40 @ CeBIT Australia 2008 and "See what you're missing".

AOC is a registered trademark exclusively owned by TPV group, currently the world's largest manufacturer of computer monitors and LCD screens.
